PROFILE

What I lack in knowledge and talent I make up for in creativity, courage and the belief that I can always be better. I am resourceful, inventive, unique and come with a multitude of talents that cross several platforms including advertising, film & video production, directing, editing, motion graphics, page layout and image development for products and individuals in entertainment and other professional industries.

EXPERIENCE

Branding, video direction & editing, package design and event coordination

Produced by Cody Foltz of Left Digital Media, the Dagnese project included a re-branding of the Orlando and L. A. based rock group that was used in web site design, merchandising and hand-made package design that enclosed their latest music video release that I also directed and edited for national release.

Branding, video direction & editing, web site and package design

Produced, directed and edited a music video for singer/songwriter Elizabeth June called “Freedom,” of which went on to win 9 awards and official selections nationally including a semi-finalist position in the Adobe Design Achievement Awards. The combined elements of video, photography and branding were also used in several other applications including web and DVD package design.

Head of visual concept and assistant motion graphics artist for Atiye

Led creative direction for motion graphics based music video integrating After effects, color keying, and Photoshop. Assisted in production of motion graphics elements and editing under the supervision of the talented Jack Cottle.

Branding, logo creation and web-based design

Branding of newly developed tree service with a two-color logo that implemented the clients needs of originality with a modern feel that would be used for promotional materials as well as designed and coded companies web site.

HOBBIES & INTERESTS

As with many artists, my ability to work with other media for expression goes far. I greatly enjoy painting with acrylics and gauche, expressing myself through clay sculpture and black & white photography and when available love smithing jewelry in a variety of metals. Since I was young I have been deeply involved in poetry, music and song writing and have had many years experience fronting an alternative rock band.
